WASHINGTON CITY.

Miscellaneous and Congressional News

WASHINGTON May 12.—Ten or twelve Republican Senators had a consultation with the President last night at the Executive Mansion

While it is generally believed from newspaper statements that the Treaty of Washington will fail in the execution gentlemen in official positions are not willing to make such an admission. Nothing of an official correspondence between the United States and Great Britain which has taken place since the cases have been filed with the Geneva tribunal has been given to the public, but enough is known through other channels to apprehend danger to the Treaty, owing to the objection of the British Government to the presentation of claims for consequential damages and in effect asking for their withdrawal as a movement preliminary to an arrangement affecting future belligerents and neutrality and our refusal to accede to its wishes

The Committee of Conference disagreeing as to the amendments to the deficiency bill, had a session yesterday when the Senators agreed to abandon Morrill's amendment but the House members agreed to stand by the substitute and the House Committee will meet to morrow with a view of reconciling their differences. The effect of Morrill's amendment is to lock in the Treasury the amount for which judgment was entered in the Court of Claims under the Supreme Court decision. The effect of the House substitute will be to pay these judgments and require the Secretary of the Treasury to adjudicate claims for cotton seized after June 25th 1865

The President has requested the resignation of Casey, Collector of Customs at New Orleans and his Deputy Kerr in consequence of revelations of Congressional Investigation Committee, though there is nothing in the Report reflecting on the honesty or efficiency of these gentlemen officially, but owing to the character of certain portions of the testimony it is thought that a change in officers might promote the general interests of the service

The Secretary of War recommends an appropriation of $120 000 for the erection of a Company military post near Beaver City Utah

Washington Barracks, twelve miles below the city was on fire this evening. Damage unknown

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Alabama Question

LONDON, May 12.—The Observer says communications have been passing between the Cabinets of Washington and London all the past week. The Government of the United States has assumed no definite position of a favorable character. There is ground for hope however, that President Grant may recommend and the Senate approve a modification of the treaty of Washington. The course of the British Government before Parliament to morrow, depends on the reply from the Washington Cabinet. Public opinion in England is adverse to any action which will close negotiations for settlement

From Paris.

PARIS May 12.—Gambetta in reply to the address from the deputations of Alsace and Lorraine, said France must not speak of revenge and advised the adoption of watchwords patience and time. Those were keynotes for France. She would obtain satisfaction without resorting to the sword

From Madrid

MADRID May 12.—The annual Budget published shows an excess of expenditures for the fiscal year. The Budget proposes to tax railway fares ten per cent and increase the tax on land and property ten per cent

Good Words for Oregon

The following flattering notice of our State is from the Boston Traveler

Those who may be inclined to take the Horace Greeley's advice and go west will do well to try the Pacific slope with its great resources have yet to be developed. If we may believe correspondents which is sometimes doubtful as a correspondent like the younger Miss Pecksniff is apt to be a "gushing thing,"—Oregon is a paradise on earth. We are told that its skies are ever blue, and its people never so, that streams gush from every hill side, that its cattle roll in fat, and that every industrious and energetic person can look forward to health and prosperity. Although these views may be too much of the couleur du rose we have no doubt that Oregon offers great facilities for emigration. The State is double the size of the State of New York and has little over a fifth of the latter's population. Railroads are rapidly being constructed which will connect it with all parts of the country and the State may look for a heavy immigration from the east. What was once west to our fathers is now a journey of a few days. Ohio, Indiana, Illinois are thickly settled States where there is little better chance for the emigrant than in the east. Even Nebraska is filling up fast, the adjoining Territories have but a shifting population and are subject to Indian raids. California is thickly settled so that the emigrant naturally turns to Oregon as offering the protection of a comparatively strong population with the advantages of a new State. Oregon borders upon the sea and as she has some excellent harbors we see no reason why she should not in a few years have her share of the Asiatic trade which has proved so lucrative to California. Her soil is excellent for farming purposes. Thus we may look to see her before long a great commercial and agricultural State with a population as thriving and energetic as that of California and freer from those disturbing elements which gold draws towards it, as that precious metal among its other good and bad qualities, seems to have the power of attracting the vomit of civilization

Bostonians feel certain that they will outlive the great jubilee as their Common Council have appropriated $22 500 for the 4th of July

"How to choose a wife" is one of the most common and attractive headings in the Salt Lake journals. "How to get a divorce" is the favorite in Chicago

The season for being killed by base ball opens a little late this year but a satisfactory report has been received from Racine. Age 12. Hot liner in the stomach

A Chicago congregation pricked up its ears when the minister said "I have land to sell" but dropped off to sleep again when he added, "the beautiful land on high"

An eccentric Connecticut gentleman, recently deceased left to religious institutions seventy five thousand dollars, to his cook one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, and to each of his five children four hundred dollars

In the year 1871 there were 8,913 persons summarily convicted in England and Wales of offences against the game laws and sixty two persons on indictment for being out armed, taking out game, and assaulting game keepers

The Atlantic says of Figuier's "To Morrow of Death" that "as the mind of man cannot well conceive of a joke four hundred pages long one must suppose M Figuier in earnest, though otherwise there is little reason to think so"

The Rev O B Frothingham says of Mazzini: "He was a patriot with principles so broad, with ideas so far reaching, with conceptions so brilliant, with hopes so magnificent, that Italy only floated like a gem in the ocean of his humanity"

A lady of Newark New Jersey seeing among the religious notices that a certain clergyman would preach "D V" said at once she would go and hear him presuming as she did, that the subject of the discourse was "Dolly Varden"

A drummer went mad at Indianapolis lately and puzzled his employer in New York by telegraphing, to send on immediately one barrel of condensed beef, thirteen steamboats, one medium white elephant, and ten gross of June bugs (assorted)

A Western lawyer who tried to collect a bill, wrote to his clients thus: "Gents: You will never get any money from Bill Johnson. The undersigned called yesterday and found him with nary a tile, his feet upon the earth and not clothes enough upon him to wad a gun"

Mr James O'Neill walked out of the gloomy portals of the Rhode Island State Prison the other day after eight long and heavy years of imprisonment, on a charge of which he is now proved to be entirely innocent. "His hair is gray, though not with years," his body is emaciated and his mind enfeebled

From the annual report of the Canadian Minister of Marine which has just been submitted to Parliament we learn that the actual value of the products of the fisheries for the purposes of trade during the past year was $75 730 000, being an excess of nearly $1 000,000 over that of last year. The capital invested in this enterprise is estimated at $15 000,000 and the number of persons employed about 37,000

General Sherman is probably the most distinguished soldier who has visited the Pyramids since the first Napoleon. Unlike Napoleon, however he does not go into ecstasies over them or talk about the forty centuries of time looking down from their summits. He thinks they are big things for tombs, "but he never cared much about tombs, does not want to get into other people's, and intends to keep out of his own as long as he can"

From the brass of the bell of the late Chicago Court House something like a hundred million "charms" have been made and sold. The bell must have weighed more than 2,000 tons, or ten times as much as the Moscow tinkler. In view of the success of this scheme a Wisconsin paper suggests that the bell on Mrs Leary's cow be manufactured into court house bells, and declares it would make one for each court house in the country. There is no limit to Chicago enterprise and expansion

POLITICAL NOTES

The election in Maine, this year, it is stated by the State press will be merely a matter of form. Gov Perham will be re elected, and the Republicans returned from all the Congress Districts without serious opposition

The Jacksonville correspondent of the St Louis Democrat thinks that Governor Oglesby will beat the Democracy in Illinois by 50 000 majority, and if a so called Liberal Republican runs against him his majority will be 75,000

The Chicago Post says that since the great American farmer has been nominated for the Presidency by the young Irishmen of New York, he signs himself "Horace O Greeley" and talks about opening a shamrock quarry at Chappaqua.

The New York Times says there was such a scarcity of Republicans willing to go from that city to Cincinnati even with free tickets, that the tickets were offered to Democrats. So Greeley leads not only a free trade but a free ride party

Charles D Robinson, whom the Democrats in Wisconsin ran for Governor in 1869 says the Cincinnati Convention was not a Democratic concern to be sure, but it was a sort of purgatory through which the uneasy spirits of Republicans hope to pass to fit themselves for reception with the legions of Democracy

The Tribune holds that the fact that there was a strong rivalry for the Cincinnati nomination for the Presidency and "no such rivalry for the Philadelphia nomination," proves that the Cincinnati party is to be victorious. The same lack of rivalry attended the second nominations of Washington and of Jackson, therefore their chances of election must have been exceedingly small

The opponents of the present Administration are hard to please. At the present time they are finding a great deal of fault with the action of the Administration concerning the propositions to be submitted to the Geneva Conference. They ridicule the idea of making any claim for consequential damages and yet they object to the withdrawal of such claim and accuse the Administration of backing down

In 1867 Horace Greeley said of Mr Colfax: "No part of this country but thrills at the name of Schuyler Colfax. He is a New York boy—a graduate of our common schools when those schools were not so good as they are now. With his widowed mother he settled in the West and then made a name for himself that is an assurance of victory." Mr Greeley may think differently now but the change is not in Mr Colfax nor the people

The Chicago Post very naturally concludes that Horace Greeley will be known to history as the great American co-operator. He co operated with the South to dissolve the Union with the rebels to win Bull Run, with Lincoln to take Richmond with Chase to beat Lincoln with Jeff Davis to escape punishment, with Tammany to save Oakey Hall, with American manufacturers to secure protection, with the Free Traders to ruin American manufactures, with the Republicans against Trumbull, with Trumbull against the Republicans. He is now co operating with the Democrats to beat Grant, and by July will probably be co operating with Grant to beat the Democrats. Great is Greeley of the Tribune

Porte Crayon relates that when a pupil of Prof. Morse, and by accident not enabled to pay his tuition at the proper time it came out that Morse was so near starvation that he acknowledged not to have eaten for twenty four hours. Our "Chawles Augustuses" do not go hungry because they haven't the means to pay. They will take board with some poor widow first

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN STATES

Carpenters' Strike

NEW YORK May 13.—About 1 800 members of the United American Society of Carpenters and Joiners, of this city, inaugurated a strike this morning for eight hours' work. A number of prominent bosses have notified journeymen that they will accede to their demand

The steamers Great Republic and City of Bristol have arrived from Liverpool

Political.

FORT WAYNE (Indiana), May 13.—The Gazette this morning says editorially it has information from members of the National Republican Central Committee that Grant is not anxious to be nominated, that the Presidency has already cost him $18 000 above his salary and he desires to retire from public service. The Gazette intimates that if such be the case it might be well to make some other nomination at Philadelphia

New York Legislature

ALBANY, May 13.—The Legislature will finally adjourn to morrow. The Senate meets this afternoon to organize a Court of Impeachment. It will adjourn until to morrow, when articles of Impeachment will be served upon Judge Barnard at Saratoga or New York

Murder in Wisconsin.

WASHINGTON CITY

The Alabama Question.

WASHINGTON May 13.—The latest statement of the Alabama situation is to the effect that an attempt has been in progress since Friday to settle the points of difference upon the indirect claims by means of a supplemental treaty which shall embrace a fourth rule for the guidance of the Geneva Conference exempting neutrals from any claims except for direct damages. The additional treaty as proposed will be so drawn as to obviate the pending difficulties and allow the arbitration to proceed. The State Department has prepared most of the correspondence which has passed since the controversy began, which will be transmitted to Congress to day by the President with a message. Some letters which have not as yet reached their destination by mail will probably be withheld

An important meeting of the National Union League is announced to be held at Philadelphia on Thursday next

London Dispatches

LONDON, May 13.—The Times and other London papers this morning are of the opinion that the announcement of Friday of negotiations between Great Britain and the United States, in regard to indirect claims, has been broken off, was premature. The Times says positively all will yet be righted. It maintains that the American Government has agreed in principle to withdraw the claims for indirect damage, and advises forbearance on the part of both Houses of Parliament. The Standard, in discussing the Presidential question in America, denounces Grant and accuses him of nepotism, jobbery, and improper use of military in civil affairs

The strike among the sailors of Southampton is thought to be ended. Most of the strikers returned to their work.

The gold placer diggings in Brigham Canyon are yielding well, and average from ten to fifteen dollars a day to the hand

Among the late arrivals are well known capitalists from Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburg and St Louis in the mining business

Three new quartz mills and smelting furnaces are contracted to be built

NEVADA

HAMILTON, May 13.—Books were opened to-day and all the stock of the Eastern Nevada Railroad subscribed. Most of the stock is wanted by a certain bank syndicate, and was subscribed for by its agent. Mortgage bonds, and all other papers have been perfected and sent forward. The President of the Company, on receipt of these papers in New York, goes to Brussels to draw the $250,000 now on deposit waiting his arrival.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—A splendid lot of blooded sheep, equal to anything ever seen in San Francisco will be shipped to Japan by the next steamer, having been purchased for the Japanese Government by H D Dun

Another Chinese woman escaped from her owner and applied to the police to day for protection, from being sold into slavery. She was sent to the Chinese Mission to be cared for

Weather warmer and foggy

Stocks very weak and will probably remain so for a few days

James Stubbs was tried in the Municipal Court to day on an indictment for burglary and convicted

Ah Wan was tried on a similar charge and convicted as charged

Phil Smith who was charged by Child & Tibby with obtaining money by false pretences was examined in the Police Court to day and discharged on demurrer to the complaint, on the ground that the facts alleged did not constitute a public offense. A civil suit was entered by Child & Libby against Smith to day for the recovery of $29,587 50

SAN FRANCISCO May 13.—Total stock sales in regular board to day 5,[illegible] at morning board, afternoon board 14 192 total 19 904 shares. The Courts appear likely to have plenty of business growing out of the stock excitement. The case of Simon Marks, charged with grand larceny, was called before Judge Louderback. A stock broker had in his possession 25 shares of stock in a Gold Hill Company placed in his hands by his friends, and he remarked that he was entitled to draw four shares of the new stock for one of the old in the hearing of Marks. Snowball charged that Marks told him he would get the transfer made for him and subsequently handed Snowball an order for 100 shares of the new stock. Snowball subsequently found that he was entitled to twenty shares of new instead of four, for one of old stock and that Marks had sold the old certificate for $1 500 and bought new for $250. Marks claimed on the other hand, to have bought the stock outright, and Judge Louderback, thinking the testimony not satisfactory dismissed the case. Afterwards another warrant was sworn out for the arrest of another broker for grand larceny growing out of a stock transaction. This warrant has not yet been served

Juan Davis, proprietor of a chicken ranch on the San Bruno road lies at the hospital in a critical condition from accidental shooting this morning. He had set a spring gun for Chinese chicken thieves, and going to the hennery this morning found that they had got in without discharging the gun. He then opened the door cautiously to see why the trap did not work, and received the entire charge of buckshot in the back of his head, neck and shoulders. He is supposed to be fatally injured.

For first time in months there was not a single mining company incorporated to-day. The market this evening appeared to be rather dull, there being no buyers and no disposition to sell at any price

Mrs Austin N Corwin, aged 24 years, was found dead at 334 Third street this morning

The Board of Supervisors this evening authorized the issue of $450,000 of sixty 6 percent bonds, running from the 5th of July to the 12th of January, to carry the city expenses on until taxes under the new law become available

Two Men Drowned.

ALBANY, May 13.—A distressing accident, by which two men lost their lives, occurred at Harrisburg on last Sunday. Three men, named Riley, Perman and Farrier, were on the river in a skiff, when it upset and Perman and Farrier were drowned. The other man succeeded in reaching the shore. No further particulars.

The weather yesterday was the warmest of this year and linen coats were in demand. To day is cold, with occasional showers, rendering a fire comfortable

Politics is exceedingly quiet in this county, and business has never been known to be as dull as now.

Greeley's Confession.

For more than a year, to be an avowed friend of Governor Fenton was to be marked for proscription at the White House. We propose to endure this for one term only.—New York Tribune, April 25th

There it is in black and white. Greeley's own confession that the Greeley-Fenton-Trumbull defection is instigated by no other or higher motive than the vindictive rage of disappointed office seekers. What an exhibition of lofty and disinterested virtue this is, to be sure! And in face of this unqualified declaration that he goes to Cincinnati because the New York offices were not bestowed in the interest of his political clique or faction, Mr Greeley has the strange hardihood to avow that he goes there to secure, among other things, a reform of the civil service which will exclude political considerations from appointments to office.—St Paul Press.

NASAL CATARRH.

[DISEASE TENDING TO CONSUMPTION.]

THIS IS A CHRONIC AFFECTION OF THE MUCOUS membrane of the nostrils or the [illegible] in irritation or inflammation, and attended by more or less discharge. It is one of the most [illegible] disgusting, and finally, most [illegible] of [illegible] to the variable [illegible] of our northern [illegible]

In its early stages Catarrh often fails to [illegible] the patient's attention, so insidious is its approach. This is an unfortunate [illegible] the most favorable period for treatment is thus [illegible] of the peculiar disposition of this [illegible] to the frontal sinuses, backward through the [illegible] tubes to the middle ears, and down through the [illegible] and bronchia to the air cells of the [illegible]

The discharge from the [illegible] part is at first a clear fluid, which may [illegible] be of a more than usually acrid [illegible]. As time goes on this gives place to a fluid that is thicker, and of a yellowish green color, and still later this may be [illegible] by thick flakes or [illegible]

In all the more advanced stages the [illegible] generally of an offensive odor, causing great [illegible] to one's friends and to the [illegible] his sense of smell remains. This annoyance from the odor becomes almost beyond [illegible] happens, the delicate bones of the nose [illegible]

Some cases early [illegible] the form of Dry [illegible]. There is then a feeling of [illegible] heat and [illegible] in the nostrils, which are often (one or both of them) closed by thickening of the [illegible] and thus a difficulty of breathing [illegible]

On examining the nostrils in Chronic Catarrh, with instruments specially adapted to that purpose, we find their lining membrane thickened and of a darker color than in health. There are seen little points of [illegible], upon which the secretion becomes hard [illegible] When these are picked off the diseased surface is irritated and frequently bleeds profusely.

In each case of Catarrh the prominent symptoms are determined by the direction in which the disease extends. If this be upward there may be pain over and [illegible] the eyes, obstruction of the lachrymal ducts, causing the tears to flow over the cheeks, and [illegible] inflammation of the eyes. If [illegible] there will be thickening of the walls of the [illegible] tendency to their [illegible] of the middle ear, buzzing [illegible] in the head and [illegible] ment of hearing. When the [illegible] the voice becomes [illegible] and cough comes on, with [illegible] to be followed too often by [illegible]

In cases where the [illegible] of the nose [illegible] not only is the [illegible] of the breath [illegible] but there is a liability to [illegible] which are falling of the nose.

The swallowing of catarrhal [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] loss of appetite, Debility [illegible] and disturbance of mind soon follow. In some [illegible] the mental affection is one of irritability, the [illegible] being unduly annoyed by all the little [illegible] of life. In others the prominent [illegible] is that of [illegible] or depression of spirits when the invalid can see no hope for himself or his affairs

Allusion has been made to the [illegible] by continuity of surface along the [illegible] to the substance of the lungs, thus [illegible] and Death. In this connection it should also be remembered that the air which enters the lungs of [illegible] patient is, every breath of it, poisoned by [illegible] from the foul secretions of the diseased surface. By such air the blood cannot be properly purified and made fit to impart healthy vigor in its unending circuit to all and every part of the animal mechanism. One would [illegible] that this consideration alone would be sufficient to [illegible] every person thus afflicted to make early [illegible] for relief

The treatment of Catarrh is in part [illegible] whereby the energies of the whole system are [illegible] to aid in expelling its destructive enemy. It is in part local whereby the discharge is made less [illegible] diminished and finally arrested, and whereby the surface is healed and restored to its [illegible]

By means of new and [illegible] Dr. [illegible] is able in Catarrh and all other [illegible] of the [illegible] tory organs, to apply his remedies directly to the [illegible] locality. Treatment is thus made more [illegible] as well as less disagreeable. In many cases the first [illegible] of the topical treatment will change the [illegible] of the disease and materially purify the [illegible]

A Card.

DR ABORN hereby informs his [illegible] and the public generally, that he has made arrangements to prolong his professional visit to Portland until [illegible] of June. Those who [illegible] consulting him should not delay until the last moment

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING MAY 14 [illegible]

Is More Wanted?

The people [illegible] are [illegible] whether they will sustain the corrupt State legislation of two years [illegible] or not. They are soon to declare whether they will place in the Legislative [illegible] another majority like that which revelled here in the last session squandering for private purposes everything they could lay their hands on, or whether they will place in that body a majority of another kind. If the people will consider this subject well, they will be afraid to send back to the Legislature a majority like that which two years ago made plunder of the property of the State and trafficked in it. Such a record as was then made is utterly without a parallel in Oregon's history. That session was the beginning of legislation for private emoluments. Until then no one in Oregon ever dreamed of trying to make a fortune by putting jobs through the Legislature. Prior to that time all had adhered to the good old fashioned ways. Legislation was not thought of except for the general good. But our present rulers changed all that. Under them was introduced the era of private jobs and corrupt legislation.

As the work which the managers had laid out for the session progressed, it was found that some Democratic members could not be coerced to support all the measures which the ring demanded. To overcome this obstacle the lawfully elected Republican members from Benton county were expelled from their seats and persons who would do the bidding of the ring were seated in their stead. Then the work ran on smoothly for a time but again it was obstructed, and the Republican members from Yamhill county had to go. It was next ordered that the Republican members from Clackamas county should be dealt with in like manner, but the ring, finding that they had by this time secured a tractable majority that could be relied on for anything, did not expel the members from Clackamas, but permitted them to hold their seats through the session, though the House had actually declared that they were not entitled to sit in that body.

In this way the locks bill, the litigant bill, the swamp land bill, and the various jobs of the session were worked through. The Governor obediently affixed his signature to every one of these plundering measures of the ring. Gen Miller, who "runs" him, was a leading man in the locks affair and in the swamp land business. Col Kelly who had just been elected Senator had a large share in the locks on which it was important he should "realize" in order that he might have money to pay what it had cost him to "fix" the Democratic caucus. It has been charged by a Democratic member of the State Senate and a Democratic paper at Jacksonville that several members of the House from the southern part of the State went home heavy with the "swag" they had obtained for the work of the session, and the charge has never been refuted, or even denied. It took money to fix up these things, and this money had to be got out of the jobs and legislation of the session. Hence the passage of the locks bill, in a form which enabled Kelly to sell his interest at a very handsome figure. Hence the swamp land law, with its limitless opportunities for plunder.

This is part of the record. Salaries fixed by the Constitution were increased from two to four fold to gratify the wants of the "reformers." To carry on the office of the State Treasurer the people now pay $3,000 a year where they had formerly paid $800. The emoluments of Secretary of State were largely increased in direct violation of the Constitution. The salary of the Governor's Secretary was doubled. The litigant bill was evoked to compel the public to pay the most exorbitant prices for advertising in Democratic newspapers. On the whole the work of the session was a "success" for its managers. But do the people want any more of the same kind?

And now the Herald comes as an apologist for mobs and an advocate of assassination. That paper has a "Brutus" who writes a letter for its columns, in which it is argued that the best way to get rid of a certain person whom they persist in making very prominent in political matters, is by the Fine Art of murder. To back up this suggestion the Herald presents a long editorial in which it apologizes for a mob in Cass county Missouri, which, in the midst of an excitement growing out of certain railroad complications, killed several county officials and a large number of other persons. The "moral" at the end of the essay is intended to support this suggestion of "Brutus" in regard to the expediency of assassination here. The Herald has conjured up terrible grievances against the individual whom it designates "railroad king." On the subject of railroads it is afflicted with chronic unhappiness. A series of essays may reasonably be looked for in its columns on "Murder as a Remedy for Railroad Evils."

The effect of the repeal of the swindling litigant law of California, the parent of the litigant law of Oregon is already beginning to be apparent in the demise of Democratic newspapers which have been supported for a long time at public expense. The central litigant organ of California, the Sacramento Daily Reporter, is already dead, and a number of others show unmistakable signs of yielding up the ghost. Gov Grover has started several papers in Oregon which he has subsidized in his own behalf with money filched from the public under the litigant law. The repeal of this law, which ought to be accomplished at the very next session of the Legislature, will cause a very satisfactory mortality among these mushroom organs.

"RESOLVED, That the Republican party without any new departure is equal to the correcting of existing abuses and the perfecting of needed reforms, and its mission will not have ended until this is accomplished." That was one of the resolutions of the Illinois State Convention last fall. And it was written by Senator Trumbull who now takes the Cincinnati "new departure" only to "correct the 'abuse'" which consists in not continuing his "patronage."

The Chicago Post says: "New York could endure Josephine Mansfield, applaud Jim Fisk and make him rich, hold the hand of Jay Gould, and elect Bill Tweed to the Senate by twenty thousand majority, but she is horror stricken at a low and audacious comedy which undertakes to represent their [illegible] and depravity on the stage." This is a new illustration of the definition of hypocrisy: "The tribute that vice pays to virtue."

The State Journal says the salt springs on the McKenzie river in Lane county, are fast growing in favor and will soon become a general resort for those in need of recreation and rest.

Talk and Talk Back

The Chicago Tribune is one of the most prominent journals in the Greeley Brown [illegible] Protection Spoils Reform movement. It has usually been a Republican paper but has often bolted as it has done again now. It is very severe on the Democrats for not keeping hands off the Cincinnati movement, insisting that the proper way for that party was not to meddle till the Cincinnati ticket came out and then walk [illegible] its support. [illegible]

[illegible] Democrats prefer to vote for a Republican nominated at Cincinnati it is their privilege to [illegible] when they undertake to nominate [illegible] candidate for the Republicans they will in all probability be [illegible] the privilege of electing him. It is well for all parties to understand this matter thoroughly and to know that to Republicans there may be a greater evil than voting for [illegible]

[illegible] Democratic talk back. This gentle [illegible] from the Chicago [illegible] a very prominent Democratic paper which ridicules Greeley's nomination:

Mr Greeley and his friends seem to think that free trade is not one of the reforms which the people hope to realize through the Cincinnati movement. In point of fact though it is but one of several, it is still one of the reforms to be accomplished and to disappoint all hope of that would be even more certainly fatal than to give offense to [illegible] and his pig iron squad. It will be well for the gentlemen at Cincinnati to bear in mind that there is not a final function with reference to the candidate that is to secure the support of the people who desire a purer and a better government. Another National Convention pledged to the accomplishment of the same ends has yet to meet, and it need not be supposed that it will meet to ratify an objectionable nomination procured by bargain and sale. The wishes of the people the hope of the cause must be regarded not the piques and jealousies of disappointed candidates.

Political Saints

The utter insincerity of those who in the name of Reform have put the Republican party and gone into the side show business is one of the most apparent facts of the time. Governor Palmer of Illinois is a shining light among the political saints who have embarked in this new movement. Only two months and a half ago Governor Palmer wrote to President Grant a letter of which the following is an extract:

I would feel greatly obliged by the appointment of Hon J A Powell, of Richland county to the Pension Agency in the Salem District. Dr Powell is an old and always reliable Republican has the strongest claims on the Administration, and has freely avowed his preference for your (General Grant's) renomination, etc. (Signed)

JOHN M PALMER

So it appears that only two and a half months ago—for this letter was dated on the 22d of February last—Governor Palmer wrote in favor of General Grant's renomination. The St Louis Democrat adds:

Will the Governor please explain where he is? It appears that he wrote this letter in the hope that the appointment of Powell would help him in his plans of a re-election. But we may be pardoned for quoting from his recent Springfield speech. He complains that General Grant has been using his official patronage for his own advantage and spends half a column in elucidating the heinousness of this offense. His letter, however, to the President for the appointment of Dr Powell is positive evidence of a similar intention on his part.

The answer from Washington crushed his hopes. Dr Powell was not appointed; there was no disposition manifested by General Grant to compromise the difficulties the Governor had precipitated in the Chicago military occupation, Republicans at home had satisfied themselves that Palmer wasn't a safe guide, and it got out that Oglesby would be nominated. Here were difficulties innumerable, so the Governor cut the Gordian knot, apostatized and is to day what the Chicago Tribune calls a shining light amongst the political saints.

OREGON

The Sunday schools of Dallas are preparing to picnic on the 25th of May.

The Dalles School District has levied a tax of 7½ mills to build a new schoolhouse.

A Salem man was lately burglarized of a watch which he had carried for thirty seven years.

The Oregon City Free School is said to be the largest in numbers of any one school in the State, numbering some three hundred pupils.

Rev P S Knight of Salem is out in a card in which he says the use of his name as an "independent" candidate for School Superintendent of Marion county is all a mistake.

The editor of the West Side is indignant because some one has started the report that Yamhill county is infested with caterpillars, and says he has been all through the county and only saw a few in one spot near Dayton.

A young man who had been employed as cook for the railroad hands on Pass Creek, died of congestion of the lungs while on his way to Eugene City a few days ago. His name was S M Keenan, and his age about 46 years.

The Astoria correspondent of the West Side says: The mail service has been increased to three trips per week between Astoria and the Summer House. In connection with it arrangements have been made to carry passengers on the arrival and departure of the Portland boats.

The corner stone of the new Convent of the Sacred Heart will be laid at Salem [illegible] day. The Catholic Sentinel says: The ceremonies will be grand and interesting. The venerable Archbishop Blanchet will conduct them, assisted by Very Rev J F Fierens, V G, and a number of the clergy of the archdiocese.

The Republicans of Umatilla county have nominated the following ticket: Representatives A B. Meacham and Augustus Mallory; County Judge, John S White; County Commissioners, George Rees and I C Thompson; Sheriff, J P Bushee; Clerk, Jno E Bean; Treasurer, L [illegible] Livermore; Assessor, A B Tabor; School Superintendent, John Truett; Surveyor, J H Sharon; Coroner, Jno Teal.

D D Garrison writes to the Salem Farmer from Arizona as follows: This is one of the poorest farming countries we have ever been in since I entered the United States service. There is nothing but stings of the worst class and thorns on almost every tree and even on the grass. There is little of the [illegible] valley that is worth a sixpence. In Tucson the Capital of the Territory there are not two hundred white people—only the military officers and [illegible]. You would be surprised to see what they call a farm here. They have to irrigate a little land in this section to raise grain, and the farming is carried on by Mexicans.

THE TERRITORIES

John P Judson is the Democratic candidate for Prosecuting Attorney for the Third Judicial District.

Last Saturday back of Steilacoom an Indian named Cymyoke was stabbed and killed by Indian Charley.

Thurston county has awarded a contract for a nine hundred and fifty dollar vault in which to store the county treasure.

General Sprague has purchased a tract of forty acres at Pumphrey's whereon to establish a station and depot for railroad purposes.

In a logging camp on the Duwamish river last Tuesday morning John McCausland, aged fifty years, was caught between two logs and killed.

James [illegible] a man recently sold a gold bearing quartz ledge situated near Olivers Ferry, on Snake river, for seven hundred and fifty dollars and then walked away a couple of miles and found another and a better one.

It is current that the steamer [illegible] is to be placed on the upper Cowlitz, to run as a ferry between Pumphrey's and the end of the twenty five miles until the road is finished, and across the Cowlitz, which will be about the 1st of September.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS

A Chicago club which is endeavoring to elevate its social tone, has resolved that hereafter no gentleman without a white shirt on shall be allowed to mingle in its [illegible] festivities. A by-law with reference to the wearing of false bosoms and cuffs will soon be adopted.

John Stuart Mill and Sismondi both insist upon the necessity that every married pair should bring two children into the world and no more [illegible] This is [illegible]

The [illegible] of railway iron in the United States during the past year was [illegible] tons of iron rails, 10,012 tons of steel, this showing a largely increased demand for the latter, which are now [illegible] cheaper in the end. During the same period [illegible] tons of rails were imported.

Russia is making extensive preparations for the most complete and careful observations of the transit of the planet Venus across the disc of the sun in 1874. Professor Struve proposes to establish a chain of observers at stations one hundred miles apart from the coast of Kamtchatka to the shores of the Black Sea.

The heat was so intense at Adelaide South Australia last January, that business nearly ceased, sleeping became almost an impossibility, and even a cold bath was scarcely attainable, the water of the water works being heated to 79 degrees. For twelve days the mercury ranged in the day up to 108 degrees in the shade.

The Russian Government lately negotiated a railroad loan in London to the extent of seventeen million pounds sterling, and on the strength of this loan orders were placed with the English mills for nearly 200,000 tons of rails. It is this great demand from Russia which has stimulated the advance in railroad iron in England of late.

Mr Samuel Tinsley the well known London bookseller takes up nearly a page of the Athenæum in advertisement of his intention of breaking up the absurd custom in England of publishing new novels in three volumes at the exorbitant price of a guinea and a half. He proposes to issue a select series of original novels each printed in crown octavo and costing but four shillings or about an eighth of the orthodox price.

A Montreal cotemporary has compared the rate of wages now paid in the various trades of that city with the wages paid twelve years ago and arrives at the conclusion that the average rise of wages all round is about 32 per cent. It seems that during the period from 1860 to 1872, the weekly wages of carpenters have risen from $6 50 to $8 00; plasterers from $7 25 to $9; cabinet makers $8 to $9 50, and printers from $7 to $9.

The concluding portion of the sentence passed by Baron Cleasby the magistrate, upon the insane lad, Arthur O'Connor who recently tried to shoot Queen Victoria with an unloaded pistol, was as follows:

The sentence I feel it my duty to pass upon you is that you be imprisoned and kept to hard labor for one year and that during that time you be once whipped; that is that you receive twenty strokes with an instrument called a birch rod.

On Monday last, the May term of the Commissioners Court for Cowlitz county convened at Freeport, at which time considerable county business was transacted. Five liquor, one lager beer, and a billiard table licenses were granted, which contributed about $800 to the county treasury for the coming six months, when a further license contribution takes place. A road from Kalama to Lewis river and from the same place northward to Nelson's were put on the list of county roads.

Mr Hallett is still calling for men to work on his railroad contract. His last call is for 500 laborers, to whom he offers $2 25 in coin per day.

CITY.

REV. MR KIMBALL.—We insert the following paragraph taken from the Pacific Tribune of the 7th inst: By the stage tomorrow morning Rev John C Kimball and his accomplished wife take their departure for Portland He will officiate for some weeks in that city in Rev Mr Eliot's church the latter meanwhile preaching in Olympia From Portland they will return to the East In the few months that Mr and Mrs Kimball have resided here they made a host of warm friends their many excellent qualities have won for them golden opinions among all classes Much regret is expressed at their departure and an earnest hope indulged that they will soon be sent back to this place The Rev Mr Kimball is now in this city Last Sabbath he officiated at the Unitarian Chapel to a very intelligent and large audience As a thorough scholar and Christian gentleman Mr Kimball and his accomplished wife have a host of warm friends in Portland

FLY WHEEL BROKEN.—A large fly wheel used in the new saw mill of Captain Ireas of Vancouver, near that place, was broken to pieces on Saturday last The machinery was in operation when the leading belt which communicated motion from the driving wheel to the machinery suddenly gave way. The motion of the engine could not be controlled, and the fly wheel which weighed about a ton, was caused to revolve with such rapidity that it was broken into a thousand pieces and scattered in all directions For tunately no one was injured by the accident Work will necessarily be suspended until a new wheel can be cast

PENTECOST.—Next Saturday is a day of strict fasting and abstinence in the Catholic Church it being the eve of the great and solemn feast of Pentecost, celebrated in memory and honor of the descent of the Holy Ghost on the heads of the Apostles. Pentecost in Greek signifies the fiftieth, it being the fiftieth day after the resurrection; and it is called Whit-Sunday, from the catechumens being anciently clothed in white and admitted on the eve of this feast to the Sacrament of Baptism The old Saxons call it Whit-Sunday, i e Holy Sunday

ANNIE STEWART.—It is rumored that it is the intention of the owners of the steamer Annie Stewart to place her on the Lower Columbia in the course of a month or more As Captain Turnbull has been awarded the contract for conveying Government stores from this city to Astoria it is more than likely that this steamer will be used for that purpose. Captain Turnbull owns an interest in the Stewart We are not apprised as to whether she will be placed on permanently as an opposition boat or not

PLUVIUS AGAIN.—About half-past 11 o'clock on Sunday night those gentle dews of heaven known as Webfoot showers, began to softly descend. They increased in violence until the rain fell in torrents. The shower was very timely among the farmers, but it destroyed the prospects of the Red Men's picnic for the time being As will be seen by announcement the picnic has been indefinitely postponed It will be advertised so that the public will know when it is to come off

BARK RIVAL.—This vessel is now overdue at this port from San Francisco At latest accounts she had not been seen off the bar She will probably be up some time during the present week. A small portion of her cargo will be discharged at Kalama The Rival brings a narrow gauge locomotive and railroad material for the Walla Walla and Columbia River Railroad, amounting in all to 250 tons, and 300 tons of miscellaneous freight for this port

THE PEACE RIVER.—Mr W C Noon, formerly engaged in the match manufacturing business in this city, has disposed of his interest and intends soon to start for British Columbia He has a brother who has a mining claim on Peace River British Columbia, which yielded richly to the hand during the past year Mr Noon proposes to join his brother in his mining operations

COLONEL E A FLINT.—The address of this gentleman, formerly of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and well known in this city, is Colonel Edward A Flint, care of Senor Don Juan L Thorndike, Arequipa Peru The Colonel has a heavy sub-contract under Mr Thorndike, who is head contractor for Mr. Harry Meigs, the great railroad engineer for South America

MAN INJURED.—Mr Thomas Rhodes while engaged at some masonry work on Halsey's hotel, on Sunday, fell from a scaffolding a distance of 15 feet He struck on his head and left arm. Dr Watkins was called and attended him. At last accounts the patient was doing well

UNUSUALLY MORAL.—Portland is at present enjoying a season of unprecedented morality There are confined now in the County Jail only [illegible] criminals, nearly all of whom are held for trivial offenses This is unparalleled in the memory of the "oldest inhabitant"

PUBLIC SPEAKING.—On Wednesday evening, the 15th instant, Hon J G Wilson and J Burnett, Esq, will speak at the Court House in this city for the second time during the canvass The Court House is expected to be crowded to overflowing on that occasion

MACHINERY BROKEN.—Some important portion of the machinery belonging to the portable saw mill of Captain S Douglas, about one mile east of East Portland, was broken last week The breakage will necessitate a suspension of work in the mill for a few days

COUNTY COURT.—The County Court adjourned last Saturday afternoon, having completed the transaction of county business They will convene on the first Tuesday of next month, the State election occurring on the first Monday

FROM LAPWAI.—Colonel David Taggart, Paymaster of the Department of the Columbia, returned from a visit to Fort Lapwai on last Saturday, after an absence from the city of six days He went to pay off the soldiers at that post

WOOL.—The steamer Vancouver brought over [illegible] a lot of wool of this year's clip It was purchased by a produce dealer in this city This is the first wool of this year's fleece which has been brought from Vancouver

NEW CITIZENS.—Judge Deady admitted to the rights of citizenship yesterday, the following persons: David Simon, a native of Germany J H Parker, a native of Canada Patrick O Donnell, a native of Ireland

NEW FOUNDRY.—A new foundry has lately been opened on Front street, opposite the Portland Steam Saw Mill Mr David Monastes [illegible], is the proprietor There are now four foundries in the city

CLIMBING.—The weather is very fickle scarce ly knowing for an hour its own mind but still the "raging Wallamet" is slowly but continuously climbing the foot of Stark street towards Front.

LADIES RELIEF SOCIETY.—There will be a [illegible] held at the Masonic Hall on Friday evening next for the benefit of the Ladies Relief Society. The programme will be timely published

ORO FINO THEATER.—The public are informed that to-night will be the last opportunity of witnessing the Pacific Coast Charmoscope at Oro Fino Theater Read the advertisement

CONCERT.—The Good Templars of East Portland held a concert last night at the Odd Fellows Hall in that place It is reported to have been a very agreeable entertainment

CHANGE.—The O S N Co's steamer will leave the wharf for Monticello every morning, Sundays excepted—at 6 o'clock promptly See change in advertisement

PASSENGERS.—The propeller Co[illegible] which reached this port on Sunday night brought four cabin and ten steerage passengers She reports no vessels off the bar

BAPTIST SOCIABLE.—A festival will be held this evening in the basement of the Baptist Church, to which all are cordially invited

BARK BREWSTER.—This vessel sailed from San Francisco for this port on the 10th inst with a very full cargo of general freight

RATIFICATION MEETING

IMMENSE GATHERING OF THE REPUBLICAN HOSTS OF MULTNOMAH COUNTY—THE COURT HOUSE CROWDED—HUNDREDS UNABLE TO GAIN ADMISSION—GREAT ENTHUSIASM

The ratification meeting at the Court House last night was the largest political gathering ever assembled in this city Two bands of musicians were in attendance and interspersed the programme with excellent music It would be impossible for us to describe the enthusiasm and good feeling that seemed to exist and the determination which was so manifest to make the present the most vigorous campaign ever made by the Republican party in Multnomah county The meeting was called to order by J Stitzel Esq Chairman of the County Central Committee who stated the object of the meeting and introduced

who made a brief and pointed speech in which he congratulated the party upon the prospect of success which was foretokened by the present immense gathering and the harmony which prevailed throughout the Republican ranks notwithstanding the heat of the contest in the primaries All those who were working for men were now ready to give up their personal preferences and join hands in fighting the common foe This ratification should be kept up until the first Monday in June and then our banners would float victorious over a State redeemed from the hands of the present Democratic rulers He was followed by

nominee for Representative who in his fluent and stirring style began to throw hot shot into the camp of the Democracy He said that he was proud to belong to the great National Republican party, in whose record for the past 12 years, not a line was to be found which any true lover of his country would wish to blot He took up the resolutions of the county platform and devoted a few minutes to their discussion and pledged himself if elected to use all legitimate means to carry out the measures contemplated by those resolutions—the securing of a proper and more stringent Mechanics lien law for he believed that of all men those who hold the plow and shove the plane or wield the axe and swing the scythe in short, who produced the bread we eat and the clothes we wear deserve the respect of men and the protection of law He was for the encouragement of all railroad and other great enterprises which tend to develop the resources of the country These great enterprises were concurrent with the advancement of all that constitutes the true prosperity of communities, States or Nations He arraigned the Democratic party for the passage of the Litigant Act in Oregon and said no legislative history of any country showed a more venal spirit than that which compelled the people regardless of party to support the Democratic newspapers of the State many of which would be unable to live but for this support wrung from the people by this infamous law compelling the man who was obliged to have any legal publication made, to pay more than one hundred per cent more than was paid before Mr Caples was one of the principal speakers of the evening and we have not space to give even a synopsis of what he said, but we feel assured that in the canvass he will be a thorn in the Democratic side which will torment them terribly But few men in our State have equal power to sway the masses with Mr Caples and his earnestness and the will with which he enters upon the canvass insures his election by a very large majority Next after him came

who said he had always been a Republican, and was one from principle, and therefore though he had failed in securing his personal wishes in the primaries, he had never entertained, nor had those associated with him in the contest at the primaries entertained a thought of acting otherwise than as true Republicans as he thought no man's defeat or success should counterbalance our estimation of the eternal principles of truth and liberty which underlie the great Republican party He said no ticket could be put forward by Republicans which would not be preferred by him before any set of men who held to the unprogressive and absurd doctrines of the Democracy He referred to some of the acts of our last Legislature, especially the act by which the people of this city were deprived of the right of self government and the control of our affairs placed in the hands of three men appointed by Gov Grover, neither of these three men, nor Grover either having enough supporters in the county to have elected them to the position of pound master If any party could cringe and fawn and eat dirt more, or more completely prostrate itself at the feet of monopolies than the Democrats of Oregon had done, he certainly had not known it Mr Hill's remarks clearly show him to be entirely in harmony with his party in this county and that his influence will be exerted to elect the whole ticket He said, in the course of his speech, that although he might have made a ticket that would have pleased him better, he did not think he could have chosen one more acceptable to the party, and that no ticket presented to the voters of this county by the Republican party for six years had been so universally satisfactory

GEO H DURHAM, ESQ,

was the next speaker, and in a short speech, gave promise of making an effective canvasser for the party in the campaign He said we had come together to bury in one common grave all the feelings of strife engendered by the contest in the primaries, and unite on the common platform for the conquest of the common enemy The turmoil and strife of the primaries had passed away and the harmony and good feeling which prevailed was conclusive proof that we are marching on to certain success at the polls Mr Durham is a good speaker, and Mr Bellinger who will be badly beaten by him in the election, will find him no unworthy foeman on the stump George will receive a handsome majority and will doubtless be the next Prosecuting Attorney of this District

HON JOSEPH N DOLPH

candidate for State Senator said he was proud of the universal satisfaction which he heard expressed on all sides by the Republicans with the ticket which their party had placed in the field For eight years no set of candidates had been proposed which seemed so acceptable to the party at large and he believed that no ticket had received so large a majority in the county heretofore as would be rolled up for the Republicans in the approaching election His time being limited he touched on the policy of the Democrats in regard to railroads and other internal improvements and showed that that policy was directly opposed to the interests of every man who owned a piece of ground or had any material interest in the development and prosperity of our State The policy of that party was well known It had been promulgated in their platforms and declared on the stump and in the messages of their Presidents and now was especially insisted on by the Democrats of the older States who had already secured their share of the public lands and woven a network of railroads over their States, which made them great and rich and powerful Oregon needs this aid to give her an impetus in the onward march to furnish her with the means of transportation for the vast productions of her prolific soil The policy of the Republican party was to render this aid to the younger States and help them on in the march of improvement

MAJOR VORE [illegible]

said he felt encouraged by the auspicious beginning of the canvass and was confident that June would see the redemption of the State from Democratic rule and urged all true Republicans to stand by their colors and shoulder to shoulder march forward to ultimate and complete triumph both in June and November

our candidate for legislative ticket was called out and said he was not brought up to the business of making speeches but was glad to see so many familiar faces present, because it convinced him that the Republicans of Multnomah county were in earnest and determined to conquer He pledged himself that if elected he would labor for the interest of the people and all who know him will believe him for he is one of our most upright and high minded citizens and we believe a large majority will attest their confidence in him by electing him one of our Representatives in the next Legislature The last speaker was

whose name is a tower of strength among the Republicans not only of Multnomah county but of the entire State He at first unqualifiedly declined speaking [illegible] but the audience seemed determined [illegible] say something and [illegible] the [illegible] was proud that he [illegible] party, and proud that he was a member of the [illegible] free [illegible] of America [illegible] that any [illegible] [illegible] as went [illegible] would [illegible] beggard [illegible] though the sword of Brutus [illegible] Caesar's heart the ghost of [illegible] terror to Brutus heart [illegible] ghost would meet the Brutus of the Herald at Philadelphia

All the speakers were enthusiastically cheered, and at times the applause from the vast multitude was almost deafening

At the close of the speaking, books were opened for the formation of a Campaign Club and when our reporter left at a late hour persons were still crowding around, anxious for an opportunity to sign the roll The Club will open rooms and push forward the campaign in the most vigorous style The success of the Republican ticket in Multnomah county is surely by 600 majority

THE WALLAMET BRIDGE

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

SIR As much has been said within the last few months in regard to the Wallamet bridge and as it is a subject of vital importance to the citizens of Portland and East Portland I think a few practical hints will not be out of place if published at this time A bridge across the river at this point is unquestionably a much needed improvement and with a large majority of our citizens are in favor of its speedy construction The franchise which was owned by the city of Portland was transferred to [illegible] under certain conditions to the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company which was given a [illegible] time within which to perform certain stipulated acts That liberal allowance of time however proved insufficient and an extension [first thirty and then] [illegible] days was obtained without any showing other than a simple telegram from the President of the Company to the Common Council of the city I am inclined to think that the extension of time within which to file plans was proper enough under the circumstances but now that the President of the Railroad Company has returned prompt compliance with all the conditions should be required for the construction of a bridge across the Wallamet, at this point is one of those things which

If it were done when 'tis done, then 'twere well
It were done quickly

In regard to the matter my opinion is that if we wait for the contemplated improvement to be made by the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company we will have to wait until our patience is exhausted In fact we would have to dismiss all hopes for the present because the Company has received no land grant and cannot negotiate its bonds in the markets which are already overstocked with the bonds of other Companies which enjoy colossal grants The Company may receive in time and I would be pleased to see it for their line is of very great importance to the North Pacific coast but surely it is not reasonable to ask the people of Portland and East Portland to indissolubly link their prospects for a bridge with the fate of any other enterprise whatever Let us examine the situation Some time ago I am informed a telegram from Washington City was received here which stated that the money had been secured and plans duly approved by the Secretary of War were ready for submission to the Common Council of Portland Since then certain plans have been laid before the Council and are now in the hands of a Committee of that body but no proof of their approval by the Secretary of War has yet been made and no evidence that the money to build the bridge is on hand or obtainable has been submitted I have carefully examined the plans alluded to in conjunction with the report of the President of the Company owning them and in my estimation they fall far short of the requirements The spans (160 feet for main spans and 62 feet opening for draw) are too short for the following reasons 1st The water way is too much obstructed 157 feet being occupied by piers 2d Sixty two feet width of opening for draw is not of sufficient capacity to accommodate navigation How could a tug boat alongside a vessel pass either up or down There are still further defects in the plan A serious one is in the width of the bridge It is intended to have a railroad track (that being required by law) but the plans propose only thirteen feet of width, which is not sufficient But suppose it would answer under ordinary circumstances, still the draw being only thirteen feet wide and standing in the center of the double tracks with division wall three feet wide in the center at each end would only leave five feet of room to pass cars from the double track to the draw Any one can see that this is totally impracticable The plans propose a bridge not even fit for a common roadway on a foundation unknown to its projectors, no allusion being made to the character of the bed of the river It is to be built on the cheapest wooden piers and, admitting it would do at all would in a few years moulder away and constitute merely a mass of obstructions to navigation I suggest that unless the P D & S L R R Co can propose more feasible plans, and make a clear exhibit of its ability to command the money to build the bridge at once, that the franchise be offered to any Company or set of men who can comply with those conditions

The law requires that all railroads shall pass over the bridge on equal terms so that the rapid construction of the bridge by a company organized for that purpose alone would not work any injury to the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company while it would sooner realize the hopes of our citizens By the way I am told that a company with ample means has already been organized for that purpose and will begin the bridge at once and push it to rapid completion if it can obtain the franchise from the city

In conclusion I have to say that there are no good grounds for believing that the company now owning the franchise has the ability to go on with the work Instead of having the necessary funds it is an applicant for a contribution of five thousand dollars from our citizens and while it is evident that this paltry sum is absolutely required to pay preliminary expenses the company ventures to threaten our city with ruin unless we comply with its demands I am aware of the fact that last year we came out with one hundred thousand dollars through fear of injury to our prospects but in that case the party making the threat had the apparent ability to make it good The two cases compare like the eagle and the crow in one of Esop's Fables An eagle pounced upon a lamb and carried it away to the cliffs A crow that witnessed the performance sought to outdo it and pounced upon a ram but instead of getting away with him got tangled in his wool and was taken by the shepherd

Now I care not who builds the bridge so it be built quickly but I am tired of the policy of delay Our City Fathers should require the present holders of the franchise to make a satisfactory showing at once or abandon the chase To extend the time without such showing being first made would be trifling with a most important interest of the community and wholly unjustifiable

I respectfully yours,
AN ENGINEER

The Sewing Machine

A strange [illegible] on [illegible] stage w nd w
My vagrant steps delayed
And half-abstracted like an [illegible] Hindoo
I paused beneath th shade

When I said, the un [illegible] humming
[illegible] han been a spring
[illegible] unto prayer the murmurous [illegible]
Shed from [illegible] a n

[illegible] he [illegible] unimpeded labor
The [illegible] usurpeth play
Ou [illegible] her embattled [illegible]
[illegible] and way

Or [illegible] yearning [illegible] higher [illegible]
By spiritual [illegible]
Nearer I drew [illegible]
Detecting no [illegible]

Then peering through the pane as [illegible]
Myself the while unseen
I marked a maiden seated [illegible] w nd w
Sewing with a machine

Her gentle foot propelled the [illegible] tread
Her gentle hand [illegible]
My fancy said it were a [illegible]
Those shuttles [illegible] a dream

Her lovely fingers lent to yoke and [illegible]
Some imperceptible [illegible]
The rural swain who buys it for a [illegible]
By beauty is embraced

O fairer aspect of the common mission
Only the Poet sees
The true significance the high position
Of such small things as these

Not now doth Toil, a brutal Bon [illegible]
Deform the maiden s hand
Her implement its soft accents merges
In songs of sea and land

And thus the hum of the unspoiling cotton,
Blent with her rhythmic tread
Shall still be heard when virelays are forgotten
And troubadours are dead

Eruption of Vesuvius

HUNDREDS OF PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH BY BOILING LAVA

A dispatch from Rome dated April 15th, gives this frightful intelligence

The announcement of the terrible scenes taking place at Mount Vesuvius was formally made in the Chamber of Deputies by Prime Minister Lanza who read a dispatch stating that the eruption of Vesuvius was increasing and becoming more serious Many persons had been burned by the lava Flames had burst from the earth under the feet of the inhabitants Torre del Greco was in danger of destruction, the people were flying from the town Temporary provision was made for them by the authorities A fresh crater opened on Friday The ashes and lava threatened the villages on the mountain side and the inhabitants removed their household goods Thousands camped in the fields The Ministers were summoned from Rome and are going to make provision for the houseless people The reports are that of a number of persons whose curiosity led them too near the volcano sixty were killed and wounded by a shower of lava The eruption proved an irresistible attraction to a large number of tourists and others, many of whom approached the mountain when the first symptoms of activity were apparent and remained in dangerous proximity not apprehending any increase in the violence of the eruption Upward of a hundred persons are reported to have been burned to death by streams of boiling lava bursting from the mountain and overwhelming them before they could save themselves by flight The extent of the calamity may probably prove much greater when the facts are fully ascertained from the city and bay of Naples

The spectacle of the volcano in action is grand and terribly impressive The present eruption is the most violent in many years and should it further increase the consequences will be disastrous beyond conception Towns at the base of the mountain, including Torre del Greco and Torre del Annunciata are partially destroyed Many buildings were overthrown by rocks and stones ejected from the volcano White lava, scoriæ and general debris fill the streets The inhabitants have fled and hundreds are homeless Families are applying to the Neapolitan authorities for aid. The fatalities were confined exclusively to the residents of the villages on the side and at the base of the volcano There is no perceptible abatement of the force of the eruption. Lava continues to flow down the sides of the volcano, destroying everything in its path The explosions are distinctly heard in Naples. A panic prevails among the inhabitants of the country around the mountain The lava has reached Sebastiana, and threatens other towns The consternation among the inhabitants of the villages and towns that are threatened with danger increases. King Victor Emanuel had sent aid to the persons who were compelled to flee from their homes and encamp in the fields

LATER—The villages of Sebastiana and Massadisomma have been completely destroyed by lava from Vesuvius The towns of Ponecello and Torre del Greco are also threatened, and the inhabitants are abandoning their homes Detonations, as if of explosions from the interior of the burning mountain are continually heard in Naples Provision has been made by the Government to shelter those who have been forced to fly from their homes

The Russian Empire

The common idea of the Russian Empire is that it is a consolidated despotism of homogeneous organization, transmitting the decrees of imperial authority through dependent officials to all classes of the people This conception is exceedingly erroneous No more heterogeneous nationality is found upon the face of the globe except the United States Of the Caucasian family the population embraces Sclavonians, Germans Finns Tartars Greeks Jews, &c Of the Calmucks and Chinese several tribal varities are found The ruling element, however are the Russians proper, and the policy of the empire contemplates the speedy Russification of the other [illegible] In this policy the German population of the western provinces by their higher culture, and their strong proclivities to their Teutonic fatherland, offer a very serious obstacle, especially since the resurrection of the German Empire. This work, however it is proposed to accomplish by legal authority The Russian nationality has no assimilating power of its own The foreign elements which in the United States silently and without effort mingle their blood with native or with other foreign breeds in Russia are repelled by old historical and ethnological prejudices, which we find it difficult to conceive of, and still more difficult to comprehend.

In political organization there are anomalies in the Russian Empire not less marked than the diversities of the population It is not generally known that the substratum of this massive military despotism is Republican Democratic, and even communistic In the Russian provinces proper the agricultural peasantry is organized into villages These village republics cover an area fifteen times as large as France before her late spoliation of territory, lying around the four ancient capitals—Novgorod, Moscow, Vladimir, and Pskoff A village republic presents some of the features of a convent or a commune It is an association of peasants living on lands held in common and governed by chiefs of its own selection under customs held as most sacred communal rights It is an association of agricultural families, holding an estate like a Shaker community, but repudiating celibacy Instead of dividing the harvest the land is divided They own the soil in common and own it for ever in equal shares Once in three years there is a reallotment of tracts, each married couple receiving their aliquot part of the arable land the forest land and the cabbage bed Eight or ten villages join themselves into a canton or parish and ten or twelve cantons unite to form a volost Thus at the foundation of Russian monarchy is there a Democratic and communal hierarchy of a most singular character

The government of these communities is administered by chiefs whose authority is derived from popular election Each village elects its starosta or elder who may not shirk his unpaid functions Hence men are often found electioneering to escape an election as anxiously as our politicians to secure one The elder has vast and unclassified powers The imperial authority can be exercised only through the action of the starosta The taxes assessed to the village in gross are by him apportioned to the villagers To supply the levy of men for the army he details the recruits Russian authorities find strong inducements to retain this system on account of its inexpensive character, and also from the fact that it supplies a vigilant local police such as no country in Europe and no other portion of the empire enjoys How long this organized Democracy can subsist within the limits of the empire is a problem yet to be solved May not this education in self government which the Russian peasantry enjoy to an extent only [illegible] by the American people [illegible] the basis [illegible] of a new Democracy in [illegible] Europe

Grant and Civil Service

Th [illegible] the [illegible] in the civil service [illegible] the [illegible] subject [illegible] If they [illegible] they will give their support to General Grant. He is doing more for the civil service than any man who has occupied the Executive chair since [illegible] into a system of spoils What he has already accomplished [illegible] the [illegible] of presentat [illegible] can so much [illegible] in its behalf as by continuing him in power

President Grant was among the earliest advocates of civil service reform [illegible] Carl Schurz and Trumbull said a word on the subject [illegible] a change of the system Its earliest official expression was in one of his messages He appointed the Commission which devised the new rules and when they were framed he gave them his official sanction He has sustained the Commission in its efforts to perfect a practicable and efficient system of reform which should lift the service above the realm of spoils and put it fully upon the plane of the public good His recent order approving and adopting the plan as finally perfected is the strongest and best word which has ever been spoken for the reform by any President and gives a powerful impulse to the movement

Not less satisfactory is his conversation with Gen Garfield which through its statement in the House practically becomes a public communication It demonstrates in the first place his entire sincerity But what is almost equally valuable it shows that he has given the subject much reflection and that his views are practical and sensible He does not suppose that a sweeping reform can at once be accomplished It is a work of time and experiment The machinery must be put in motion and experience will teach wherein it is defective and wherein it can be improved The President does not believe in a life tenure and what he seeks is the substance and not mere name of reform That the competitive examination shall be invariably applied and made rigorously decisive that the higher grade shall be approached only through the lower he does not absolutely accept He wants the plan tried and perfected as we proceed What strikes us in this expression of his views, which we copy elsewhere is its sound common sense and its just realization both of the necessity of reform and of limitations of our American system

The President has not only given the weight of his authority to civil service reform he has not only initiated it by Executive order but his influence has been potent in strengthening it on all sides Congress is expected to proceed with great reluctance and hesitation because this reform takes from the members one of their cherished prerogatives It naturally encounters its strongest opposition there But in the last test on Friday the friends of the reform mustered seventy nine votes against ninety seven on the other side This is a long advance on any preceding vote and shows the progress which the cause is making This encouraging vote is due more to the President s decided position than to any other influence and to every candid observer it is plain that in no other way can the reform of the civil service be so well promoted as by enabling President Grant to continue his efforts through another term

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE STATE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION AT PORTLAND MARCH 20 1872

The Union Republican party of Oregon in Convention makes this declaration of its principles and policy

1 To the Constitution of the United States and all its amendments we pledge our unfaltering allegiance [illegible] a thorough, willing obedience to [illegible] and our constant support

2 That the success of the present National Administration in reducing the public debt [illegible] and equalizing taxation administering [illegible] affairs with economy and efficiency [illegible] ing the civil service [illegible] laws with [illegible] fear for protecting the nation's [illegible] with paternal care against the cruel avarice of speculation and [illegible] and maintaining friendly relations with [illegible] has been such as to command the approbation of the great majority of the American people and [illegible] the confidence and commendation of every true Republican

3 We regard the payment of our national debt in full compliance with all legal obligations, and all our credit [illegible] in accordance with [illegible] a disregard [illegible] issue [illegible] as affirmed by [illegible] as not only [illegible] and [illegible]

4 [illegible] which [illegible] for [illegible] States [illegible] and effective [illegible] voluntarily [illegible]

5 We favor the encouragement [illegible] the General Government [illegible] such disposition shall [illegible] shall secure the same to actual settlers only in quantities not exceeding 160 acres

6 That while we are in favor [illegible] support of the General Government [illegible] duties on imports [illegible] industrial interests of the whole country and we recommend [illegible] the working [illegible] wages [illegible] agriculture [illegible] remunerative prices [illegible] manufactures adequate reward for their skill labor and enterprise and to the National commercial prosperity and [illegible]

7 We believe that [illegible] any [illegible] dollars [illegible] party [illegible] for [illegible]

8 We [illegible]

9 [illegible]

10 [illegible] of the United States [illegible] the rebellion [illegible]

11 [illegible]

12 [illegible]

13 That the Republican party [illegible] the construction of a wagon road from the city of Portland to the Dalles [illegible] as an important and necessary improvement for the State

14 We affirm that the continuance in power of the Republican party is the only sure guaranty of national peace and prosperity and for reasons that we point to its brilliant record in the late civil war to a complete nationality to a united sisterhood of thirty seven States; to our Territories rapidly warming into State life to a nation freed from the taint of human slavery to an elevated and enlarged citizenship to our national standing at home and abroad to the work of

[illegible] our [illegible] which [illegible] useful and [illegible] foreign [illegible] and to [illegible] proper field [illegible] Trade [illegible] and [illegible] Wells [illegible]
